

Building Capacity and Morals through Film-Making.

WHAT WE ARE DOING:

We are working hard in creating an environment that enables youths to engage with one another through short educational workshops.

The content of these films are to encourage families and youths who are facing everyday life challenges and promote good values.

The programs are built on the principles of love and caring for one another.

The two days workshops emphasise more on practicals, for we believe people learn and interact more by been actively engaged.

To actively engage Youths in creating film content that builds their capacity and self-confidence as well as showcase good morals.

From the creating of stories, developing of scripts and casting of roles, our workshops are designed to provide opportunities to help develop passion and love for the industry while giving the youths an opportunity to make new friends.

To organise film-making workshops across various cities each year.
To improve community relationships.
To Position the contents developed on local and digital broadcasting

As we travel from one city to another, we are excited about creating content to be featured on digital and broadcasting platforms.

We are very excited about this project and look forward to building the acting confidence of our youths as well as giving them a platform to be able to feature in bigger film projects in the future.
